Presidential Task Force on Missing and Murdered American Indians and Alaska Natives Operation Lady Justice

Background

The Presidential Task Force on Missing and Murdered American Indians and Alaska Natives, also known as Operation Lady Justice, is focused on enhancing the operation of the criminal justice system and addressing the legitimate concerns of American Indian and Alaska Native communities regarding missing and murdered people – particularly missing and murdered women and girls.

President Trump signed Executive Order 13898 on November 26, 2019, forming the two-year Task Force. The group will carry out a number of specific activities, and submit reports to the President in November of 2020 and November 2021. The Task Force is Co-Chaired by Attorney General William P. Barr and Secretary of the Interior David L. Bernhardt.

The work of the Task Force is concentrated on meeting with tribal leaders and communities, improving the response by law enforcement, communities and systems, reviewing research and data collection, and developing an outreach campaign.
