Operation Lady Justice

Operation Lady Justice's Community of Interest for Law Enforcement

JusticeConnect is an innovative information sharing and collaboration service available on the Law Enforcement Enterprise Portal (LEEP). This service allows law enforcement partners across the United States to securely share information and knowledge beyond organizational and jurisdictional boundaries. LEEP is a gateway providing law enforcement agencies, intelligence groups, and criminal justice entities access to beneficial resources. These resources strengthen case development for investigators, enhance information sharing between agencies, and are accessible in one centralized location. JusticeConnect is a criminal justice network which facilitates information sharing, partnership development, and project management for federal, state, local and tribal partners in a secure environment.

Community of Interest (COI)

A JusticeConnect Community of Interest, or COI, is a virtual place to come together with other law enforcement and intelligence experts from multiple jurisdictions to share and store information about a particular topic of common interest. Members of a COI can exchange information, ask questions and solve problems, or improve their understanding of a subject. Communities can be customized to include features such as forums, blogs, wikis, files, and bookmarks. Community owners can choose the access level of the community: restricted, moderated, or public. There are close to 1,000 COIs in JusticeConnect, including topics like gangs, digital forensics, investigative techniques, and license plate information

OLJ's Community of Interest

Operation Lady Justice has created a Community of Interest for law enforcement partners looking to collaborate on missing or murdered American Indian and Alaska Native issues and cases.
